Camp Expansion Is Subject Of Kiwanis Club's Program

Captain Clingensmith,
Principal Speaker

The proposed expansion of the 46th Division's Camp Grayling and the establishment of a new artillery range and tank maneuver area was the topic for a talk by Captain Harold Clingensmith of the Quartermaster General's Department and a following discussion period at the Conservation Training School on Higgins Lake Monday night at a regular meeting of the Kiwanis Club of Grayling.

Over 60 Kiwanians and their guests were seated for dinner in the school's dining hall and well over 75 people attended the following program. Several members of the Grayling Grange, Grayling Chamber of Commerce, Grayling businessmen and the Kiwanis Club of Cayland attended the meeting, besides members of the sponsoring club.

The program was opened by Kiwanis president Earl R. Burns, who welcomed the guests. He turned the meeting over to Charles E. Moore, a member of the club and also of the Board of Supervisor's committee investigating the proposed expansion of the camp and the establishment of the new areas. Mr. Moore in turn introduced Captain Clingensmith after briefly telling of the committee's functions in the investigation.

Captain Clingensmith with the aid of a map pointed out the two areas which the Guard plans to turn into an artillery range and tank maneuver area. The artillery range will be bounded more or less on the south by M-93 on the east by a road about one-half mile west of Lovells, on the north by North Branch creek in Otsego County and on the west by the east line of Hartwick Pines. The tank area will be located south of M-93. Captain Clingensmith said that if the areas were not obtained the Michigan National Guard would leave the state for training and might dispose of Camp Grayling entirely.

Following the talk by the principal speaker a lively question and answer period ensued for about one hour. The speaker reiterated that the land, if obtained would not be closed to hunters and fishermen except during training period, and also that no main roads would be closed off at all and side roads only during the training. Some land would be obtained on a line north of town from the airport site to the two new areas for a complete military road for the movement from Camp to the maneuver areas for the huge and heavy tanks, tank triers and prime movers that might smash existing roads to bits. The air port itself came up for some discussion and Captain Clingensmith said that the rights of civilians to use the field would not be abridged even if the Guard became owners. The speaker also surprised those present by stating that the resort land around KP Lake which the Guard at first wanted, was now not needed by them and would not be sought after. The south line which at first was to be the north Down River Road has now been shifted one mile north to miss homes and resorts areas which exist there. He stated that the boundaries of the two proposed areas were so situated that there was absolutely no danger to anyone outside of the areas from fired or ricocheting shells. The artillery range would lie south from below the North Branch and that tanks would fire north-east away from the East Branch thus making the two trout streams safe and usable for fishermen at all times.

The only river frontage that would be bothered would be for a crossing of the East Branch by the proposed military road which Captain Clingensmith said "had only reached the 'think about' stage. No plans have been ordered for the road as yet, he stated.

The officers and directors of the Grayling Chamber of Commerce at their meeting last Friday evening at the Legion Hall heard J. D. Marcus of the field course division of Central Michigan College at Mount Pleasant, discuss a retail merchant business training course.

Purpose of the course would be to give instruction in more adequate business management and problems of the retail merchant.

After a short discussion Chamber directors voted to sponsor a six week course to be set up by Central Michigan College. One meeting will be held each week. The first meeting will deal with a discussion of outstanding problems facing local merchants.

Most of the discussion meetings will be held in various stores here with the emphasis being put on actual business problems of each merchant.

The directors also indicated that they would co-operate to the fullest in sending a Crawford County exhibit to the Detroit News Travel Show which is scheduled for Convention Hall in Detroit from May 4 through 8. Nels Olson brought the matter to the attention of the Chamber and is to contact the Grayling Sportsman's Club on the show also.

Reserve Officers May Train Here

Reserve officers will be able to take their field training with army units of the Michigan National Guard August 6 to 20 at Camp Grayling, according to instructions issued by Major General Ralph A. Loveland, commanding general.

General Loveland has directed all organization commanders to submit all names of local reserve officers who desire to train with National Guard units in 1949. This joint training plan has the approval of Fifth Army Headquarters. Many reserve officers participated in the Guard's field training program last year.

Reserve officers desiring to train with National Guard units may file applications with local National Guard commanders.

4-H Junior Leaders Attend Camp

Several of our junior 4-H boys and girls are enrolled in the Junior Leadership project. This project offers special training in leadership in that the junior leaders assist the adult leader and in some cases take full charge of leading a club of younger boys and girls.

This year a Junior Leadership Training Camp was held at Higgins Lake, March 7-8-9. This camp is financed by the Sears Roebuck Foundation, one of the many large companies that are behind the 4-H Club program.

Two delegates from each of the 28 Northern Counties attended this school. Those attending from this district were Donna Berry and Lawrence Stebbins of Kalkaska County, June Robbins and Bob Meggison of Antrim County, Shirley Babbitt and Ardith Winston of Crawford County.

Special instruction was given in recreation for club groups. This was conducted by Miss Jane Farwell, recreation specialist.

Instruction was also given in club organization, record keeping and demonstrations. This was conducted by Mr. Kenneth Osterhout and Mrs. Ruth DeRosa, Assistant State Club Leaders.

It is planned that this school will be held each year. And more junior leaders will be attending. This is another way in which 4-H Club work is aided in developing high quality leadership in our girls and boys and helping us to move toward the goal of "Better Living for a Better World."

Lovells Notes

Elaborate plans had been made for a dinner and evening of entertainment as the means of raising some last minute funds needed. Willard Council, president of the Grayling Sportsmen's Club who sponsor the winter sports program said today that other plans would be made in the near future.

Hunter, Smock and Sorenson To Oppose Burke And Roberts

Assures A Race For Two Posts

As the noon deadline for filing petitions to run for the two posts on the Grayling City Council arrived Saturday, it was apparent that a real race was in store for April 4.

Incumbents George Burke and A. L. Roberts will be opposed by Don E. Smock, Lawrence Hunter and Alfred Sorenson for the two council seats. Burke has held a council seat for 12 years, 10 of which he served as Mayor of Grayling. He was elected to the Council in April 1937, and at the following organizational meeting was elected Mayor. He held the post until April, 1947, when Edwin Carlson was named Mayor in the organizational meeting. Burke was named Mayor pro tem at the same meeting.

A. L. Roberts has a record of nearly 20 years in the City Council. He resigned his post in April 1940 to take a position which he held out of the city on occasion. Carlson, who later was named Mayor, was appointed to the Council in April 1947, when he served as Mayor pro tem. The three opposing the present councilmen are new to city politics. Although Alfred Sorenson has served on the City Cemetery Committee and is a County Commissioner, Lawrence "Bud" Hunter and Don E. Smock are both employed by the Crawford County Road Commission while Sorenson is owner of the Sorenson Funeral Home.

The terms of Councilmen Don Gottho and William Tuttle and Mayor Robert Hayes continue until April, 1951, at which time their positions will be up for election.

City Manager Davenport Grateful For Aid

City Manager Max Davenport said today that he very much appreciated the fine co-operation the city has had from the general public, the business places mentioned earlier in the year, the Mosher Coal Co. for fuel and the Fire Department for their assistance in trying to make the local skating rink a success. He stated that even though the rink wasn't too successful, it would have been if the weather man had been as co-operative as the Grayling people.

Manager Davenport also wished to notify all war veterans who are drawing disability pensions and who want to file a property-tax exemption certificate, to do so before April 1, 1949. Exemption forms can be obtained from the County Treasurer's office.

which is smoother, livelier, and more economical. Other changes make notable contributions to beauty, safety and passenger comfort.

Wheelbase has been increased for a better ride and more road stability but at the same time the over-all length has been reduced for ease in handling. Although lower and narrower, the new bodies provide greater interior room for passengers. The cars appearance reflects a complete change from last year's models. The Plymouths may be seen at Wm. Leng Garage, Frederic. Designers have achieved a "common sense" streamlining in which ease of handling, safety and comfort have received strong consideration. Fenders which blend perfectly into body lines are nevertheless separate and detachable, thus avoiding sheet metal masses so costly to repair or replace.

Increased visibility is provided in the windshield which 37 per cent larger and the rear window which is 35.4 per cent larger. Windshield wipers clear 61.5 per cent greater area.

Sedan seats are wider and deeper, both in front and rear. The width of both cushions has been increased (5" in front, 6" in rear—front seat width 56", rear seat width 57") with panels and arm rests so located as to take

Group Voting Out?

Immediately after the election, when it was known that the Democrats had not only elected a President but had gained substantial working majorities in both House and Senate, it was felt by some that Mr. Truman could have anything he wanted. But there were those whose knowledge of the working of politics went deeper who were not so certain. Even Franklin Roosevelt had plenty of trouble with Congresses which were overwhelmingly Democratic. Mr. Truman is in the same boat.

The Taft-Hartley Bill is a conspicuous example. If the labor groups really thought that outright repeal of this act and a return to the Wagner Act was likely, they were badly misinformed. The temper of Congress certainly is not for giving labor a free hand. The Republican minority is solidly in favor of many Taft-Hartley provisions, and so are a considerable number of Democrats. The fight against unqualified repeal has been ably led by two young Republican senators—Ives of New York and Morse of Oregon—and they have developed a large following on both sides of the aisle. The day has long been over when party members voted as a group, and statistical majorities do not necessarily mean much when some particular piece of legislation is involved.

LET'S ENFORCE THE QUARANTINE

The first few days that the dog quarantine was in effect, the dog population of Grayling was kept under close wraps. Since that time, every day has brought more dogs out into the streets of town.

One dog crazed by rabies around the Grayling school at recess time or when school is closing, could cause a near riot.

Let's enforce the quarantine—or call it off.—R.W.S.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

Never Too Late
To Learn

Cappy Miller's young son, Squint, is forever coming up with new ideas. Now they're not all world beaters, but Cappy is usually willing to give them a try.

Seems Squint found a new way to clear brush. They take two tractors, about thirty feet apart, and connect them with a heavy chain weighted down on the ground with old iron. First they both go parallel in one direction, then they go back over the same swath in the opposite direction and up comes the brush—roots and all. Worked fine and saved time.

That's why things go so well at the Miller farm. Cappy is open-minded, tolerant of new ideas and new ways of doing. He doesn't think his way is the only way.

From where I sit, a little tolerance will make things go better for all of us. You respect my views and I'll respect yours—whether it's on farming, politics, or choosing between an ice cream soda or a temperate glass of beer.

SHORT STORY

Like I Was Telling YouBy
BARTLEY HOWLEY

PAUL turned a quizzical eye on his companion. She had bright blue eyes that darted happily about the dining car, missing nothing. "Like I was telling you," she said in a birdlike voice, "people don't usually show their true selves."

You never can tell just what a person will do providin', of course, he's given an opportunity." Delicately she nibbled a roll. "People are funny, they really are. Don't you think so?" Paul nodded silently. So far he hadn't been given an opportunity to speak but he didn't mind. This lady reminded him of his maiden aunt, an extraordinary woman who had been mother and father to him. She had been gone now for two years.

Miss Harrington, Miss Abigail Harrington, began again. "Take my husband, for instance." Paul lifted an eyebrow.

"You're wonderin' how I could be Miss Harrington, aren't you, young man? It's simple. The judge gave me permission to take my maiden name back. That's what I want to tell you about. It's almost unbelievable the things that people do. Arch, my husband, had a fine education and a marvelous personality." She dipped her head and peeked coyly up. "Suppose it's hard to believe, but I was not so bad myself."

"Arch was downtown one day doing some shopping for me. He was waiting for his package and what do you suppose?"

Paul shook his head. "Well, sir, the woman next to him moved on and left her purse right in front of him. A nice, juicy purse. Now Arch had good pay and everything nice but there it was—in front of him—the big purse—the opportunity. The temptation was too much. Arch fell!" She laid her fork down and wrung her hands. "Naturally I begged him to take it back, pleaded until I was blue in the face. I'll bet you can't imagine what he did?" Paul shook his head.

"He wouldn't fight with me, of course, and he wouldn't take the purse back. He bought me the loveliest dressing gown you've ever seen." Her eyes glowed. "I looked beautiful in it, too. But it was ill-gotten. I was never happy in it." Paul was silent.

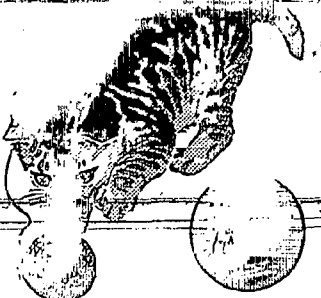

"THINGS got from bad to worse. Arch was clever but the police got on and we were hunted all over. I stayed with him naturally because he was my husband and he was good to me. But they caught him." A shadow crossed her face. "They tricked him. That wasn't fair, was it?" Paul shrugged. "Abigail Harrington looked up, her as I've said again. "I'm sorry if I've bored you but I've always thought it was a good example of what people will do if given opportunity."

Paul nodded silently and paid the bill. She picked up her purse and beamed at him. They rose together and made their way back to their seats. For the next two hours she prattled on about her family and friends, his family and friends. She asked many questions and answered them herself. The journey was over too soon to suit Paul who was enjoying himself immensely. The train pulling in was giving spasmodic jerks so he placed a protective arm to steady her. He jumped down and turned to help. Too late, he saw that one of her heels had caught on the step and thrown her off balance. He caught her neatly. "That was close," she gasped. "Thank you, young man."

She adjusted her hat and Paul stooped to retrieve her purse and its scattered contents. With a bow, he returned the articles, all except one. It was a gentleman's wallet, his wallet.

Michigan's bi-partisan state government has entered its third month with little on the surface to indicate political differences. Just as coming events have a habit of casting shadows before them, so the April election has created a temporary lull in the state legislature. A total of 379 bills were introduced in the Senate and House prior to March 1. Most of these are before committees for study, revision or pigeon-holing. Considerable work is done by legislators in committee, and often their best contributions are decisions to kill undesirable bills.

No major development in the legislature are expected until the April ballots are counted.

The political strategy seems to be well set.

Republicans will concentrate on the rural vote, while the Democrats are relying heavily on another CIO demonstration in Wayne County and other industrial centers.

County highway departments are concerned about the possibility of the state highway department taking over control of state highway maintenance. If Charles M. Ziegler, present highway commissioner at Lansing, is replaced by John H. McCarthy of Detroit, Democratic nominee.

Dr. Lee M. Thurston, superintendent of public instruction, is opposed by E. Murr Sherwood of Stambaugh, Democratic nominee. Both parties have new state chairmen: Republican, Owen J. Cleary, Ypsilanti; Democrat, Hicks Griffiths, Detroit.

Hearings have been started on recommendations of the Michigan Good Roads Federation. These include a 1.3-cent gasoline tax increase higher weight taxes, overhauling of state and local highway administration, and a change in the formula for highway taxes among local government units.

Motorists now pay 25 per cent in taxes on cost of five gallons of gasoline, currently sold (net) in Lansing for $1.03. State gasoline tax is 15 cents; federal gasoline tax 7 1/2 cents; state sales tax 3 cents. If the state gas tax were raised to 5 cents, the tax would be 33 per cent on the bill paid.

Repeal of the law legalizing pari-mutuel betting on horse races has been petitioned by the Michigan Council of Churches. The Senate recently adopted a bill forbidding horse racing at the state fairgrounds, Detroit, starting January 1, 1950. While the state condones pari-mutuel gambling, the State Supreme Court again has held that bingo is illegal.

Workers hired by firms in intrastate commerce would be given the right of collective bargaining under a "little Wagner act" bill approved by Governor Williams. The measure would permit a three-member state labor relations board to hold elections to determine the bargaining agent desired by a majority of employees. "Cease and desist" orders also could be issued against employers.

Another measure, blessed by Governor Williams, would revise the Bonine-Tripp labor law to eliminate requirement of a strike vote by majority of employees before a legal strike call be called. Waiting period before a strike could be called would be cut from ten to five days, except in hospitals and utility strikes where a 30-day "cooling off" period would be retained. The State Supreme Court ruled that compulsory arbitration in public utility disputes was unconstitutional.

Unemployment compensation coverage would be extended by another Williams-approved bill to employees of firms which pay a minimum of $150 weekly in wages. At present firms which hire eight or more workers are taxed. Maximum weekly payments would be raised to $42 for 26 weeks, as contrasted to the present $38 for 20 weeks. The cost of all government—local and federal—will approximate one-third of the national income in 1949, reports the United Press. "New taxes are being proposed in nearly every state to help balance rising budgets."

Taxes levied in Michigan for county, municipal school and other units increased 15.78 per cent during 1948 according to the state board of assessors. Former Governors Harry F. Kelly and Wilbert M. Brucker are being mentioned prominently as possible contenders for the United States senatorship to be vacated by Senator Vandenberg in 1952. Kim Sigler didn't appear at Republican state convention in Grand Rapids. He is vacationing with Mrs. Sigler at Fort Lauderdale, Florida also the winter retreat of George R. Averill his executive secretary in 1947 and 1948.

sportsmen's clubs in regard to changing the deer season in the Lower Peninsula to improve our hunting. Almost everyone thinks the season should be changed from November 15 through November 30 as it is now to December 1 through December 15. We all feel that if this request is given a good hearing, something definite will be done about it. Here are some of the reasons for this change.

1. We will get better breeding season from year to year. Then we will be getting the benefit of a lot more bucks before they are killed.

2. We will have colder weather to keep our deer after they are hung up, instead of having to rush home to save them from spoiling in the weather. We have had during the season it is now. This also spoils the vacation for which most of us have waited a year.

3. We are almost sure to have tracking snow by that time, instead of the bare ground which we have now in the Lower Peninsula. This will give the hunter a better chance to track down a wounded buck and get him, rather than lose him and go out and shoot another. With good tracking snow it will make some of the doe shooters think twice before pulling the trigger.

4. By changing the season to a later date it will save a lot of hunters the long trip home to a Thanksgiving dinner which breaks up the season.

5. By keeping the season the same as it is now in the Upper Peninsula and changing it to two weeks later in the Lower Peninsula, these folks will enjoy a full months business from the deer hunters instead of only two weeks. We could have two different colored tags for the two seasons and make it illegal to hunt in both seasons. That would be up to the public and Conservation Department. We now have two different seasons for partridges.

6. We also think that if we stopped killing of spike horn bucks and make it three points or more, it would give the spike horns another year to mature and help increase our buck supply. It would also stop a lot of shooting of short horns and does. The reason for the three points is that the hunter doesn't always see both horns.

If you think this is what you want, will you please write the Department of Conservation, Lansing 3, Michigan, and also write your comments to William Miller, Secretary of Lovells Hook and Trigger Club, Star Route No. 1, Grayling, Michigan.

TO THE MEMORY OF Mrs. E. A. Jennings

How beautiful are the feet of them,
That tread the path of life,
Whose hearts are clean and pure within
And free from worldly strife.

How beautiful the patient hands,
That minister to the needs,
Of them that give their very best,
And sow their lives as seed.

How beautiful the lives of them,
That daily make their choice,
To walk and talk and live with God,
And heed His still small voice.

How strong and peaceful are the hearts,
That wait upon the Lord,
They have their strength renewed each day,
According to His word.

Their eye of faith is never dim,
But ever keeps in view
The crown of glory won by them.

That were God's chosen few.
The Lord their Shepherd is,
By waters still He leads
In pastures green, they know no want,
He meets their every need.

Smelt Season Suggests Tasty Lenten Meals

Whatever your plans are for Lenten menus you will delight your family if you serve them the fish of the season—smelt.

If you live in northern Michigan you may be attending a "smelt jamboree" but you can easily treat your family to the mild little fish at home. Smelt are easily cleaned and can be served in many ways.

For a variety of recipes for cooking smelt write to the Bulletin Office, Department of Public Relations, Michigan State College, East Lansing, for the attractive folder illustrated in colors. Ask for Experiment Station Folder 8, "Fish Recipes—smelt." All recipes have been tested by the foods and nutrition department working in co-operation with the zoology department.

Recipes for frying, broiling, baking and pickling smelt are included. Sauces are recommended for smelt because they are so mild in flavor. Recipes for a variety of sauces are given.

Smelt range in length from six to 14 inches and usually run from seven to nine inches. It is easier to clean the larger smelt. It is not necessary to scale them. Simply remove the head and the entrails with a knife.

Insist on fresh smelt because the oil essential to the rich flavor evaporates easily and is not found in stale fish. It is available fresh from February to late May when the sportsmen take it during the spring spawning runs.

Frozen smelt are wholesome but lack the characteristic flavor of the fresh fish now being taken from the Great Lakes.

For instance, House bill No. 167 which provides discretionary power for the Conservation Commission is a product of the Michigan United Conservation Clubs. They could not introduce it, so it was introduced by Mr. Eugene and other members of the Conservation Committee have received recently indicate to me that most people do not understand the method by which a bill is introduced for consideration in the Legislature. State departments during the time when the legislature is not in session discover, as time goes on, that changes need to be made in certain laws under which they operate and which they are required to enforce.

These proposed changes are incorporated in bills which they present to the regular session of the legislature every two years. For instance, the Highway Department will have some bills which in their estimation are needed for a better highway program, and the Conservation Department will make suggestions on changes they feel are needed.

The point to be remembered is that neither the head of any department nor an employee of any department can introduce a bill. The bill must be introduced by a member of the legislature. No bill can receive any consideration by a committee of the legislature until it is formally introduced by a member or a group of members. After such introduction the bill is given a number, is then assigned by the Speaker to the proper committee for action. Such committee makes any changes it sees fit and then reports the bill to the floor of the House where changes can again be made by the majority of the members before it is passed or rejected. If passed, it goes to the Senate where it goes through the same procedure. Hundreds of bills, each session never come out of committee and many are not passed after they are reported out. Still others pass on house but not the other.

Department heads usually bring such bills to the members of the committee to which the bill will be assigned, and the members of that committee usually introduce the bill. While only one or two may appear on a bill usually only the name of the person whose name appears at the head of the list is published. This leads people to believe that that person alone is responsible for the bill and that the provisions of the bill are solely his idea. Hence he is flooded with mail by persons both for and against it and that is the purpose of introducing the bill. We thus get public reaction to proposed changes in the law, but he should not be blamed personally for what the bill originally contains. He may or may not himself be in favor of the measure or a part of it. But in order to bring it to the attention of the public and before the legislature someone has to first introduce it, so he takes the blame.

This is especially true of conservation bills. All of those bills were brought to our committee for introduction and I am convinced that the procedure is much misunderstood by sportsmen's clubs throughout Michigan, as well as the majority of their members.

For instance, House bill No. 167 which provides discretionary power for the Conservation Commission is a product of the Michigan United Conservation Clubs. They could not introduce it, so it was introduced by Mr. Eugene

Betz from Monroe, and many others. In all publicity given the bill, the other names that appear on it are never mentioned. It is referred to as the Betz bill and Mr. Betz receives all the praise and criticism from the public that does not understand.

Other conservation bills were introduced by other members of our committee of fifteen. It so happens that my name appears first on House Bill No. 149 which contains all the proposed changes in the game laws. I am now receiving letters from all over the state for and against certain provisions of that bill. That is as it should be. We welcome public opinion and want it. However, the proposed changes in the bill are not my idea. They were handed to me by the Conservation Department. Needless to say, the Conservation Committee will make some changes and will strike out some of the amendments entirely. Each proposed change will be carefully weighed and in the end none will become law unless passed by both branches of the Legislature and signed by the Governor.

My thought in giving you the above explanation is for the purpose of inviting you to express to us your reaction to any proposed changes before us, but at the same time asking you to be tolerant with the legislator whose name is mentioned in connection with the bill.

In Chancery, No. 268

In the Matter of the Petition of Muri K. Aten, Auditor General of the State of Michigan, for and in behalf of said State, for the sale of certain lands for taxes assessed thereon.

On reading and filing the petition of the Auditor General of the State of Michigan praying for a decree in favor of the State of Michigan, against each parcel of land therein described, for the amounts therein specified, claimed to be due for taxes, interest and charges on each such parcel of land, and that such lands be sold for the amounts so claimed by the State of Michigan.

It is ordered that said petition will be brought on for hearing and decree at the April term of this Court, to be held at Grayling in the County of Crawford, State of Michigan, on the 12th day of April, A. D. 1949, at the opening of the Court on that day, and that all persons interested in such lands or any part thereof, desiring to contest the lien claimed thereon by the State of Michigan, for such taxes, interest and charges, or any part thereof, shall appear in said Court, and file with the clerk thereof their objections thereto on or before the first day of the term of this Court above mentioned, and that in default thereof the same will be taken as confessed and a decree will be taken and entered as prayed for in said petition. And it is further ordered that in pursuance of said decree the lands described in said petition for which a decree of sale shall be made, will be sold for the several taxes, interest and charges thereon as determined by such decree, on the first Tuesday in May thereafter, beginning at 10 o'clock a. m. on said day, or on the day or days subsequent thereto as may be necessary to complete the sale of said lands and of each and every parcel thereof, at the office of the county treasurer, or at such convenient place as shall be selected by him at the county seat of the County of Crawford, State of Michigan; and that the sale then and there made will be a public sale, and each parcel described in the decree shall be separately exposed for sale for the total taxes, interest and charges, and the sale shall be made to the person paying the full amount charged against such parcel, and accepting a conveyance of the smallest undivided fee simple interest therein, or if no person will pay the taxes and charges and take a conveyance of less than the entire thereof, then the whole parcel shall be offered and sold. If any parcel of land cannot be sold for taxes, interest and charges, such parcel shall be passed over for the time being, and shall, on the succeeding day, or before the close of the sale, be reoffered, and if, on such second offer, or during such sale, the same cannot be sold for the amount aforesaid, the County Treasurer shall bid off the same in the name of the State.

STATE OF MICHIGAN,

In the Circuit Court of the County of Crawford
In Chancery.

In the Matter of the Petition of Muri K. Aten, Auditor General of the State of Michigan, for and in behalf of said State, for the sale of certain lands for taxes assessed thereon.

To the Circuit Court for the County of Crawford, in Chancery.

Muri K. Aten, Auditor-General of the State of Michigan, respectfully shows unto the Court:

1. That he is the Auditor General of the State of Michigan and makes and files this petition under, by virtue of and pursuant to the provisions of Act No. 206 of the Public Acts of 1933, as amended, and Act No. 126 of the Public Acts of 1933, as amended;

2. That Schedule A annexed hereto is the tax record required by the act first above mentioned and contains the description of all lands in the aforesaid county upon which taxes, which were assessed for the years mentioned therein, have remained unpaid for more than one year after they were returned as delinquent, the description of all lands in said county heretofore bid off in the name of the State and thus held and upon which taxes which were assessed subsequent to the tax for which such lands were sold to the State have remained unpaid for more than one year after they were returned as delinquent, and the description of all lands in said county which are delinquent for any installment of taxes under the provisions of the act last above mentioned;

3. That extended separately in said schedule against each description of said lands therein contained are (a) the total amount of delinquent taxes upon said description for the non-payment of which the same may lawfully be sold at the next annual tax sale, (b) interest computed thereon as provided by law to the first day of May, next ensuing, (c) a collection fee of four per cent and (d) $1.00 for expenses, all in accordance with the provisions of the act first above mentioned;

4. That all of the aforesaid taxes, interest and charges are valid, delinquent and unpaid, and have remained delinquent and unpaid for sufficient time to authorize and require, as provided by the foregoing acts, the sale of the aforesaid parcels of land against which they were assessed and are extended in said schedule at the next annual tax sale for the non-payment thereof, and that the said taxes, interest, collection fee and expenses so extended in said schedule against each parcel of land therein described constitute a valid lien upon each of the said parcels of land described in said schedule as therein and against which extended in favor of the people of the State of Michigan, the payment of which lien this court may enforce as a preferred or first claim upon such lands by the sale thereof.

Wherefore your petitioner prays:

a. That within the time provided by law this court may determine and decree that the aforesaid taxes, interest, collection fee and charges are valid and constitute a valid lien upon each of the said several parcels of land described in said schedule as therein extended;

b. That within the time provided by law this court make a final decree in favor of the State of Michigan against each parcel of said lands for the payment of the several amounts of taxes, interest, collection fee and expenses, as computed and extended in said schedule against the several parcels of land therein contained;

c. That said decree provide that in default of the payment so ordered of the said several sums computed and extended against said lands in said schedule, the said several parcels of land, or such interest therein as may be necessary to satisfy the amount decreed against the same, shall severally be sold as the law provides;

d. That your petitioner may have such other and further relief in the premises as to this court may seem just and equitable.

And your petitioner will ever pray, etc.

Dated: February 2, 1949.

MURI K. ATEN,
Auditor General of the State of Michigan,
for and in behalf of said State.

Plymouth's new special deluxe featured above. Brilliant new styling is combined with outstanding riding comfort, increased roominess, and sweeping mechanical improvements in the new line of Plymouth automobiles. Completely redesigned, the new Plymouth has a longer wheelbase for a better ride and more road stability, but less front and rear overhang for easier parking and maneuvering. While the silhouette has been lowered and the width decreased, there is more head and leg room and seats are wider. Typical of Plymouth's many refinements is the ignition-starter combination, with which a turn of the key starts the engine. The new Plymouths are sleek in appearance. New rear-end styling provides a graceful balance with the horizontal grille-lines which emphasize the broadness of the front. Fenders which blend perfectly into body lines are nevertheless separate and detachable, thus avoiding sheet metal panels so costly to repair or replace. The new Plymouth line includes the distinct automobiles. Special deluxe and deluxe types are on a 112-inch wheelbase, one inch longer than last year's. Special deluxe models are four-door sedan, club coupe, convertible club coupe and station wagon. In the deluxe group are the four-door sedan and the club coupe. In addition, Plymouth will build three deluxe models on a brand new 111-inch wheelbase, a two-door sedan, a three-passenger coupe, and a new body type, the Suburban. The 67-horsepower engine has improved performance and efficiency with a new design cylinder head which increases compression ratio to 7 to 1. A new chrome plated compression piston ring reduces cylinder wear and provides greater protection during the break-in period. There are improved oil rings for greater oil economy, while a newly-designed intake manifold induces quicker, smoother engine warm-up and produces faster throttle response. Body styling which produces greater passenger room without excessive bulk also increases visibility. V-type windshields have 37 percent more area and provide excellent vision without distortion. Windshield wipers clear 61.5 percent greater area and the rear window is 35.4 percent larger.

New rear-end styling provides a graceful balance with the horizontal grille-lines which emphasize the broadness of the front. Fenders which blend perfectly into body lines are nevertheless separate and detachable, thus avoiding sheet metal panels so costly to repair or replace. The new Plymouth line includes the distinct automobiles. Special deluxe and deluxe types are on a 112-inch wheelbase, one inch longer than last year's. Special deluxe models are four-door sedan, club coupe, convertible club coupe and station wagon. In the deluxe group are the four-door sedan and the club coupe. In addition, Plymouth will build three deluxe models on a brand new 111-inch wheelbase, a two-door sedan, a three-passenger coupe, and a new body type, the Suburban. The 67-horsepower engine has improved performance and efficiency with a new design cylinder head which increases compression ratio to 7 to 1. A new chrome plated compression piston ring reduces cylinder wear and provides greater protection during the break-in period. There are improved oil rings for greater oil economy, while a newly-designed intake manifold induces quicker, smoother engine warm-up and produces faster throttle response. Body styling which produces greater passenger room without excessive bulk also increases visibility. V-type windshields have 37 percent more area and provide excellent vision without distortion. Windshield wipers clear 61.5 percent greater area and the rear window is 35.4 percent larger.

Plymouth's new special deluxe featured above. Brilliant new styling is combined with outstanding riding comfort, increased roominess, and sweeping mechanical improvements in the new line of Plymouth automobiles. Completely redesigned, the new Plymouth has a longer wheelbase for a better ride and more road stability, but less front and rear overhang for easier parking and maneuvering. While the silhouette has been lowered and the width decreased, there is more head and leg room and seats are wider. Typical of Plymouth's many refinements is the ignition-starter combination, with which a turn of the key starts the engine. The new Plymouths are sleek in appearance. New rear-end styling provides a graceful balance with the horizontal grille-lines which emphasize the broadness of the front. Fenders which blend perfectly into body lines are nevertheless separate and detachable, thus avoiding sheet metal panels so costly to repair or replace.
